Safety of Our Public Armories.

The recent seizure of Harper's Ferry by a small band of white men and negroes, has drawn attention to the safety of our public armories and forts, and has elicited the faca that there is not a single regiment of regular soldiers on the entire Atlantic and Gulf seaboard. The New York Herald says there are but two companies at Fort Hamilton to protect New York Harbor, one company at protect New York Harbor, one company at Recorder says.

It is an error that Colonel Lewis W. Washington, of Jefferson, is "the nearest relative of General Washington alive." The venerable Dangerfield Lewis, of King George, is one degree nearer. Mr. Lewis is a grand; son of Fielding Lewis and Bettie, the sister of Washington, while Colonel Washington's father, the late Colonel George C. Washington, was the only son of a nephew. All the nephews of the General were bequeathed swords in his will, and two are in the possession of the Lewis family, the one ware possession of the Lewis family, the one worn at Bradecok's defeat, besides other relics, being now at Marmion. Having had occasion to use the services of a plumber, I was introduced to set Ogden, a gentleman who had just arrived in our city. The job that swas to be done was very difficult, and required the nicest kind of mechanism. I am happy to said that the work was performed to my entire satisfaction, and as a master of his art, I take pleasure in recommending him to my fellow townsmen.

He would also take the privilege of giving one among several recommendings he has received aince his residence here:

Mr. Ogden has done considerable work in the plumbing line in my house, which is very satisfactory.
